From the President:

Convention is coming !!! Convention is coming !!!
October 30th through November 3, 2010.
Have you placed your housing order with ASPE.
Have you completed your registration and have you received your Convention COIN. Please don't forget or lose this coin. You only get one and this number is used in drawings for all of the special door prizes and grand prize drawings. This coin will come with your registration confirmation letter from ASPE. Please remember to look up your number as you sign in at registration desk to see if you won the $50.00 instant prize.

Our chapter will once again be running our car in the Chapter to Chapter Grand Prix. Come and Join us for this event Saturday Oct 30, at 5:30pm With final eliminations on Monday at 6:15.

If flying to convention remember to use discount code 79H0at to receive a 5% discount. Need to rent a car? Use Avis and use code Go27999 to get a discount.

Hope to see you there !!!!

Remember the first meeting of the year..... Our special Clam Bake meeting on Sept. 8, 2010.

Summer is almost over and if your construction projects are like mine, I am sure your looking forward with fall and getting back into the swing of things with ASPE. This year's program is shaping up and John Varga is working hard to set up this year's technical program. If any member has a special request please drop me a line or call me on a topic that you would like us to cover in more detail. I believe communication is critical to good engineering and keeping on top of design issues and codes is necessary.

Having issues getting your Firm to help sponsor you for ASPE programs, meals etc. Drop me a line. I would like to get your feedback on this Issue. People come up and ask me why join, what is the benefit, why go to meetings? Well here are some considerations that your firm may miss out on:

1. Interaction between engineering firms
2. Interaction between different engineers and type of designs. Not all firms do the same type of projects.
3. Engineering topics that are not product based. I know, I don't want to hear from sales person when I attend a meeting since I may see him in my office next week.
4. Engineers taking about engineering issues
5. Engineers getting to meet owners, vendors, application engineers from companies not just the normal sales person.
6. Meet your local vendors, If you are new to the industry you often have to ask, I wish, I could talk to all of them at one time and not just one vendor. It is nice to know your vendors face to face when you are having issues or need help.

From the President (Continued):

7. Code officials, when was the last time you talked to the head state plumbing inspector?
8. Code updates and interpretations from your peers?
9. Engineering data for design. Are you keeping up !!!!!
10. Leed and the Green movement for innovation in design. Topics which we are going to review this year in several upcoming meetings.
11. Contractor feedback. This year we are looking to get a panel in get feedback from the contractors point of view what is good and bad on contract documents. What should we be doing better, what are we missing?
12. CEU and PDH credits for both the plumbers, Engineer's for License renewal.

These are just some of the benefits for attending the technical sessions, which most are not available at an office lunch and learn. With me working at a University technology is an ever growing field and keeping up is a necessity and I have found that ASPE has kept me in the loop with products, designs and with contacts in every field and in every state that we have chapters. Have you ever asked how well you know you're out of state architects when you have to team up with them. Well I can tell you that talking to local ASPE engineers who work in their area in which I have meet through ASPE has been very helpful. This would be a tool which I would not have if not associated with ASPE.

Just some thoughts from your President and I look forward to seeing you at our meeting and at the convention.

Regards,
Keith Bush

IT SMART AND SAFE.

When you actually see it perform live, you'll change the way you think about central hot-water distribution systems. Designed specifically to provide $\pm 2^{\circ}\text{F}$ recirculation system control during zero-demand idling periods, our EMC also delivers remarkable performance across the full diversity of hot water use. And it has no minimum system draw-off requirement. With remote programming and control features, and building automation system interface capability built into the mixing unit, the EMC offers an unparalleled portfolio of valuable benefits. We don't just say it; we'll prove it to you online. Log on to www.armstrong-intl.com/aspe today and sign up for a live guided tour.
